Dear Ms. Evans:

RE: Reclamation of the Seven-Mile Mine, DOE/019/013, Grand
County, Utah

On August 24, 1984, Division personnel visited the Seven-Mile Mine in Grand County. The site is apparently abandoned and in a state of disrepair. Several entries to the mine are left open, large erosion gullies are present on the pads and waste dumps and refuse litters the bottom of the dumps and the minesite area. The site is not only an eyesore due to its proximity to Highway US163, but it could also present environmental and safety hazards.

According to our files, Minerals Recovery Corporation assumed responsibility for reclamation on the Seven-Mile Mine in a letter to the Division dated August 31, 1981. We would appreciate your cooperation in cleaning up the site and conducting the necessary reclamation to stabilize the area.

If you have further questions or comments, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Steve Cox
Reclamation Biologist
